STATE EPWORTH LEAGUE TO MEET IN LEXINGTON.

Dennis V. Snapp, of Paris, State President of the Kentucky Conference Epworth League, M. E. Church, South, has formally announced that the League Conference will be held at the First Methodist Church, in Lexington, June 29 to July 2.

The constitution provides that: "Each Senior League shall be entitled to one delegate for every thirty members and one additional delegate for a fraction. No chapter shall be deprived of one delegate. Each Junior chapter shall be entitled to one delegate. Each pastoral charge having no League chapter shall be entitled to one delegate. The Presiding Elders and pastors shall be entitled to be delegates ex-officio."

Mr. Snapp says a very strong faculty of speakers and institute workers will be present. Among those already secured are Rev. Ralph Eugene Nollner, of Missouri, assistant General Secretary, and Miss Helen K. Boulware, of California, Junior-Intermediate Superintendent, both of the Central Office Epworth League at Nashville, Tenn. Miss Fannie O'Brien and her assistant, Miss Powell, of Jenkins, Ky., will also take part in the program.

The morning sessions will be devoted to Prayer and Bible Classes and Studies in Epworth League Methods. The afternoons will be given over to business sessions and sessions will consist of inspirational addresses and stereopticon lectures. The three League chapters in Lexington, Park church, Epworth church and First church have jointly agreed to entertain the conference and J. A. Bricken, 163 Rand avenue, Lexington, has been selected to act as president-host.

INSTINCT GAVE HER FIRST SIGN OF ITS MERITS

"The Minute I Tasted Trutona I Said, Here's a Real Medicine, And It Proved To Be," Avers Nurse.

LOUISVILLE, KY., April 13, 1920.—Mrs. F. C. Spanyer, formerly an emergency nurse at the city hospital, is another well-known Louisville nurse, who recommends the use of Trutona, the Perfect Tonic. Like others, Mrs. Spanyer not only backs her claims regarding Trutona with several years' experience as a nurse, but she has also taken the Perfect Tonic, and knows from actual experience just what it will do.

To read the following statement of Mrs. Spanyer is to become convinced of the fact that Trutona is truly a preparation of unusual merit—a medicine worthy of trial no matter how many others have failed to give you relief.

"My system was generally run-down," Mrs. Spanyer said, "I had indigestion so bad that I could hardly eat anything. My back would ache, frequently and I often had headaches which would be accompanied with dizziness. I felt tired out all the time, too, and could hardly do my housework. I'll tell you I was in awful shape."

"I was formerly an emergency nurse at the city hospital and I ought to be able to judge the merits of a medicine when I have had experience with all kinds for years. Well sir, I guess that's why the minute I tasted Trutona I said, 'there's a real medicine all right,' and believe me, it has proven to be."

"I give Trutona credit for making an entirely new woman of me. And Trutona did it after many other medicines had flatly failed. I'm able to eat heartily now and the food digests and doesn't hurt me a bit. I get up in the mornings feeling fine and I'm able to do all of my housework now."

"I do hope that other people, who are suffering from troubles like mine, will take the advice of a nurse who knows, and try Trutona."

Trutona is sold in Paris at Varden & Son's, the Druggist. (adv)
